NESCAC SPRING ALL-ACADEMIC - May 24, 2007

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NESCAC SPRING ALL-ACADEMIC SELECTIONS ANNOUNCED

386 Spring Student-Athletes Receive Honors

HADLEY, Mass. - The New England Small College Athletic Conference announced its 2007 Spring All-Academic selections today, with 386 student-athletes that participated in a spring sport earning All-Academic recognition. To be honored, a student-athlete must have reached junior academic standing and be a varsity letter winner with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.35. A transfer student must have completed one year of study at the institution.

Of the 386 student-athletes that received Spring All-Academic accolades, a total of 126 had the honor bestowed upon them last year. 70 student-athletes on the 2007 Spring All-Academic squad also received NESCAC All-Conference recognition this past season.

Notable members of the Spring All-Academic team include five seniors that were honored as the top performer in their respective sport this year. Amherst's Derek Cherney (Chappaqua, N.Y.) and Shauneen Garrahan (Fairfax Station, Va.), Middlebury's Kim Walker (Ridgewood, N.J.) and Noah Walker (Oakland, Calif.), and Caroline Doctor (Franklin, Tenn.) of Williams each earned Spring All-Academic recognition for the second-consecutive year along with earning NESCAC Player of the year honors.

A four-year standout on the Amherst Men's Lacrosse team, Cherney came away with the league's top award for the second time in three years in 2007 after taking home Co-Player of the Year in 2005. In addition to being named NESCAC Player of the Year, the political science major also achieved a rare feat by being named to the NESCAC All-Conference First Team for the fourth year in a row. Cherney lead the league in points this season with 59, averaging nearly four points per game, as he tied for fourth in the conference with 31 goals and was third in assists with 28. The 2004 NESCAC Rookie of the Year, Cherney led the Lord Jeffs in scoring in each of the previous four seasons, accumulating 118 goals and 204 points over the course of 59 games.

A unanimous choice by the conference coaches for Women's Lacrosse Player of the Year, Kim Walker also earned a spot on the NESCAC All-Conference First Team for the third year in a row as she helped guide the Panthers to their seventh-straight 9-0 record in conference play and their 14th consecutive NCAA semifinal berth. The senior midfielder paced the Panther offense this season with a team-leading 46 goals and 54 points while scooping up 49 ground balls, winning 51 draw controls and recording 31 caused turnovers, all team-bests. Majoring in history at Middlebury, Walker tied a NESCAC championship record for goals in a game with six during the final against Colby on May 6.

Fellow Panther Noah Walker was selected as both the NESCAC Baseball Player of the Year along with earning a spot on the 2007 NESCAC All-Conference First Team. Starting all 30 games this spring for Middlebury, Walker led the Panthers at the plate with a .434 batting average, second among all conference players, along with 43 hits, nine doubles, 23 RBI, 10 steals on 11 chances, and a league-leading 28 walks and on-base percentage of .568. Defensively, the shortstop committed only 10 errors in 147 chances, a fielding percentage of .932. A political science major with a minor in economics, Walker ended his career at the top of most every offense category at Middlebury, despite playing just three years. His .397 career batting average and 135 hits are second all-time, while he scored more runs (101) than any other player in school history. Walker finished third with 93 RBI and 340 at-bats, while he is tied for the all-time lead for the most doubles (32), triples (8) and walks (61). He also holds single-season records for walks (28) and assists (117).

Amherst's Garrahan and Williams' Doctor shared the Sebastianski Award as the Most Outstanding Female Performer at the 2007 NESCAC Women's Track and Field Championships at Middlebury on April 28. Garrahan won the 5000-meter run for the second year in a row while also placing second in the 1500-meter event as the Lord Jeffs finished fifth at the NESCAC Women's Track and Field Championship. Doctor came away with first in both the long jump and triple jump for the second-straight year while also setting the new benchmark at the Middlebury track in both events. Garrahan double-majored in psychology and political science during her time at Amherst, while Doctor double-majored in economics and geology.

Founded in 1971, the New England Small College Athletic Conference (NESCAC) consists of 11 liberal arts colleges and has consistently reflected its commitment to the values of athletics and academic achievement. The member colleges of the conference are Amherst College, Bates College, Bowdoin College, Colby College, Connecticut College, Hamilton College, Middlebury College, Trinity College, Tufts University, Wesleyan University, and Williams College.
