

Acknowledgments

The creation of this manual was supported by a grant from the Howard Hughes Medical Institute. Professor Bonnie Shulman is to be thanked for the initial idea and for writing the grant proposal.

Professor Meredith Greer produced some sample L^AT_EX files for the students in Math s21 during 2003; these files were an excellent guide for what to include in this current project.

Professor John Rhodes wrote a model thesis document for senior math majors several years ago; that document served as an excellent starting point for the thesis files now in this manual.

Finally, the Bates College math students, teaching assistants, and instructors on whom this manual was tested during the 2006-07 school year deserve thanks for their suggestions and their patience.
