

"THE EARTHLY HEAVEN" : THE MOTHER OF GOD AND THE HOLY MOUNTAIN

25– 27 February 2011
Madingley Hall, Cambridge

Madingley Hall is a grand seventeenth-century country house 3 miles west of Cambridge. It belongs to the university and serves as a designated conference centre. With its 50 single rooms and 13 shared rooms (all with en-suite facilities) it provides comfortable accommodation for up to 76 delegates as well as ample car parking in its 7-acre grounds.

The Friends of Mount Athos have decided to return to Madingley for a fifth conference in February 2011. Between dinner on Friday 25 February and lunch on Sunday 27 February there will be a series of talks devoted to the theme of the Mother of God and Mount Athos. All the speakers have an intimate knowledge of their subject and are keen to make it accessible to a broadly based audience.

The speakers will include:

Metropolitan Kallistos of Diokleia
Fr Lukas of Xenophontos Monastery
Dimitri Conomos

Metropolitan Nikolaos of Mesogaia
Aidan Hart
Dimitrios Skrekas

There will be a framework of Orthodox church services which the non-Orthodox will be welcome to attend.

Total cost (including registration, accommodation, all meals):

£240.00 (€300 / $360)
